introduction

The Queen Elizabeth Centre (QEC) is a registered public hospital and, in accordance with the Health Services Act, 1988, is a body corporate with perpetual succession.

A Board of Management is responsible to oversee and manage the hospital and to ensure that the services provided by the hospital comply with the requirements of this Act and the objects of the hospital (Health Services Act 1988, s.33(2)).

The Minister for Community Services, the Honourable Sheryll Garbutt, MLA, has portfolio responsibility for the Queen Elizabeth Centre. Government policy and funding related to the Queen Elizabeth Centre are administered through the Community Care Division and the Southern Metropolitan Region of the Department of Human Services.

The core business of the Queen Elizabeth Centre is the provision of specialised care, support and education to families from anywhere in Victoria who are experiencing difficulties with parenting and whose children are in the age range, 0-3 years. These difficulties may arise from physical, psychological, intellectual or social causes. Modes of service delivery include residential stay, day stay, home visiting and telephone information. The main campus is located at Noble Park. Regional outreach bases are located at Morwell, Wangaratta, Warragul and Preston.

... early parenting

Underpinning Principles

- The family is the principal provider of care and nurture for children whether sick or well. QEC practices and procedures will be family-centred, with professionals working in partnership with families to articulate and achieve families' goals and objectives.
- Families with additional needs arising from age, substance dependence or poverty have equal opportunity to access QEC services and programs as the general population. Services and programs offered will be culturally relevant to all clients. All clients select their own care plans (mix of relevant services and programs) in partnership with staff and have a responsibility to participate in these services and programs.
- As a public health organisation, QEC endorses and participates in the achievement of national and state child health goals and targets, including:
- increasing breast feeding and immunisation rates
- preventing illness and injury (accidental and nonaccidental)
- promoting healthy nutrition, fitness and positive family functioning
- identifying health and/or developmental problems early; and facilitating early intervention.
- Children have the right to a standard of living adequate for physical, mental, spiritual, moral and social development, including free and compulsory education, the highest attainable standard of health and access to health care and freedom from abuse and exploitation (United Nations, 1990, Conventions on the Rights of the Child). Where the continuing actions or behaviour of a family are believed to put a child at risk of significant harm, the child's interests are paramount and QEC's professional staff are legally required to notify children's protective services (Children and Young Persons Act 1993).

Objects

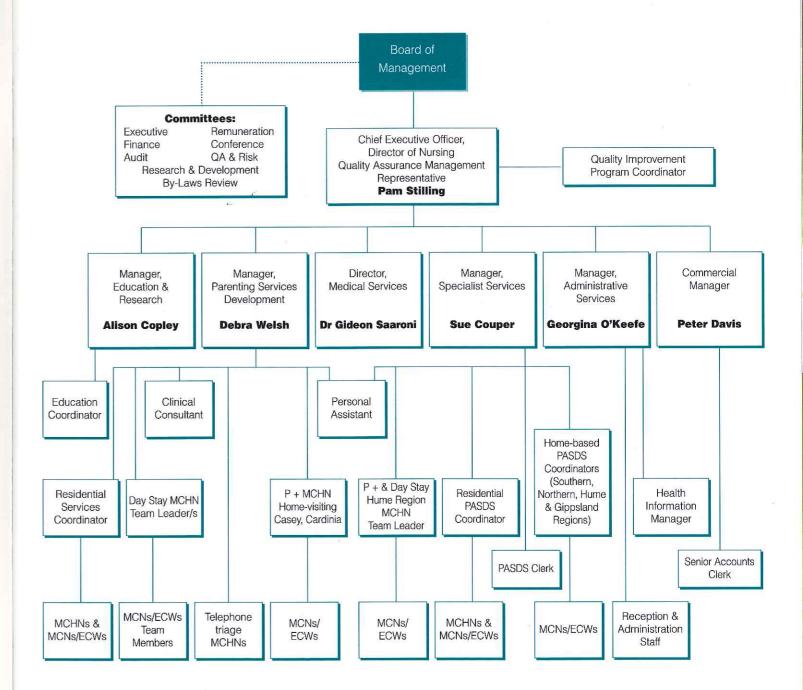

The Objects of The Queen Elizabeth Centre are:

- to develop parenting competence and confidence, enabling families to nurture and protect their children, and to enhance family health and development;
- to enhance access to services by ensuring the availability of residential, day- stay and home visiting services;
- to provide services that are individually and culturally sensitive to all families experiencing parenting difficulties, including those with special needs such as a disability or chronic illness, maternal depression, a substance dependency, adolescent parents or family members who do not speak English;
- to enable families to function independently within their own communities by maintaining productive linkages with community-based services;
- to promote community and professional awareness and knowledge about the care and nurturing needs of young children:
- to respond to the changing needs of families by monitoring service effectiveness and quality, and by regular review and redevelopment.

president's report

The Queen Elizabeth Centre again achieved significant successes in 2002-03. Our second national conference and a well subscribed seminar series cemented our reputation as quality professional education providers. Over 1,000 professionals from a vast range of disciplines participated in a QEC education program in the year. Alison Copley and Pauline Sampson staffed the Education Services business unit. They have run the unit on a cost recovery basis, revenue entirely derived from fees and sponsorships. The Board congratulates Alison and Pauline for the quality and professionalism of their work.

Last year I reported that new funding from the Commonwealth Department of Family and Community Services' Child Abuse Prevention Program enabled us to pilot Parenting Plus, an intensive home-based parenting skills-building program for vulnerable families. The evaluation of Parenting Plus was completed in early 2003 and was so promising that the same Department granted QEC another $200,000 to increase the number of families receiving the program and extend the evaluation. Our major funding body, the Victorian Department of Human Services, was also impressed with Parenting Plus and encouraged us to offer it to families in the Southern Metropolitan Region and North-Eastern Hume Region over the next three years.

The QEC Foundation supported us again in 2002-03, being the major sponsor of the 2002 national conference and channelling to the Centre philanthropic donations worth $54,054. The Hon Walter Jona AM, Chairman of Trustees since the Foundation began its work in 1989, announced a short time ago that he would relinquish the chairmanship. Mr John Crutch succeeded Walter as chairman. I must take this opportunity to express to Walter the Board's and QEC's heartfelt thanks for his loyalty, his commitment and his unflagging support and belief in the Centre's work and ideals. Over 34,000 families have received a QEC parenting service in the fourteen years of the Foundation's existence.

Among the Centre's achievements in 2002-2003 is the recertification of all QEC sites' compliance with the new International Standards Organisation Australia New Zealand Standard 9004:2000 Quality Systems.

The Board of Management welcomed three new members in November 2002. They were Ms Heather Finlayson, Mr Tim Staker and Dr Lakshmi Sumithran. During the financial year we farewelled Ms Linda Martin who had been a hard working Board Member for six years. It was Linda who urged the Centre to develop and seek formal certification for its quality improvement system and encouraged the Board to develop a sound governance framework and document its governance policies. On behalf of my fellow Board Members I extend our thanks to Linda for her contribution to QEC and our warm thanks to new members Heather, Lakshmi and Tim for their valued contributions in their first year.

On a final note, this is my last year both as the President and as a Board member for eight years. Organisations such as QEC contribute a great deal to the social fabric both of the immediate local community and the wider area it serves – much of it without fanfare, and sometimes, sadly, without recognition. At the Centre we deal with a wide range of issues, many of which reflect the pressures and problems of the world around us. It is a great tribute to our staff – both past and present – that we continue to enhance an already excellent reputation.

Congratulations once again to the staff and management team of The Queen Elizabeth Centre for the successes of the year and for the hard work that made these achievements possible, A special thank you to Pam Stilling, Peter Davis and Georgina O'Keefe for their support over the years.

I am particularly appreciative of the work of the Board subcommittees and would again like to personally thank my fellow members of the Board for their contributions.

Throughput Statistics

In 2002-2003, 3,592 families received a Queen Elizabeth Centre early parenting service, 1,461 of them at Noble Park. Table 1 shows total numbers of families who, in financial years 2000 to 2003, received early parenting services at our Noble Park and Wangaratta centres, and in their own homes in the Southern and Northern Metropolitan Regions and in Gippsland and Hume rural regions. Table 2 presents numbers of individual clients who were formally admitted as defined hospital patients to the Noble Park residential and day stay programs in the same three years. The reduction over the three-year period in numbers of families receiving a residential service at Noble Park results from closure of two-day weekend services and the greater lengths of stay required for families in the residential Parenting Assessment and Skills Development Services (PASDS) program. At any time one quarter of residents is participating in a PASDS program.

- 2 Includes individuals who attended day stay programs plus those who participated in residential programs but did not stay overnight.
- 3 Day stay services reduced from 5 to 3 days per week in August 2002.
- 4 Drop in number of separations from previous year is due to a policy whereby individual family members who attend for only part of their partner's residential program are not admitted as hospital patients and also to closure of residential program at weekends.

Geographic Catchment Area

Queen Elizabeth Centre offers residential services at Noble Park to families living anywhere in Victoria. While some families travel from as far away as the Mallee and the Western District, their numbers are relatively small. Our day stay programs at Noble Park and Wangaratta attract families who live within reasonable same-day travelling distance to and from those centres. Our home-visiting services are restricted to defined geographic areas related to funding agreements.

Table 3 gives the distribution of families who were clients at our Noble Park site from 2000-2003 by the region where they live. Table 4 presents similar data for all clients of our combined Noble Park and regional-based services in the same three-year period. Table 5 shows the age distribution of clients admitted to Noble Park programs. It reveals an increase of 4.93% in 31-40 year olds since 2000 – a corresponding decrease of 5.83% in 21-30 year old parents.

our services and programs

The Queen Elizabeth Centre's outstanding achievements in 2002-3003 include:

- delivering the second Queen Elizabeth Centre national conference attended by 450 delegates;
- having Professor Jane Drummond from the University of Alberta, Canada, as the Queen Elizabeth Centre 2003
 Visiting Scholar for three months, April to June 2003;
- winning a three-year contract to provide home-based Parenting Assessment and Skill Development Services (PASDS) in the Southern Metropolitan Region;
- increasing services for high risk families by providing home-based Parenting Plus in two regions with State Government funding; and
- attracting funding from the Commonwealth Department of Family and Community Services to extend the evaluation of the Parenting Plus program;
- completing two significant research studies, Parents' Perceptions of QEC's Home-Based Parenting Assessment and Skill Development Services (PASDS) and Evaluation of the Parenting Plus Pilot Program.

Queen Elizabeth Centre operated for the full year, with reduced services for two weeks in December-January and one week in April.

Core Early Parenting Services – Triage, Residential, Day Stay and Home-Visiting Services, Noble Park

Core services are early parenting care, education and support services funded through a recurrent block grant from the Victorian Department of Human Services (DHS). Expert assessment and triaging during an initial telephone consultation with potential clients ensure Queen Elizabeth Centre's residential and home visiting services are able to respond to complex early parenting and early childhood needs. Triage nurses provide immediate telephone advice but refer less complex, everyday parenting difficulties to service providers in the primary or universal service system.

In 2002-2003, triage staff diverted 1,581 families (one-half of all enquiries for bookings) from requiring a face to face service by providing telephone advice and referring families with less complex needs to the primary or universal sector.

In all, during the year, triage nurses responded to 4,749 calls: 3,046 families with a new concern, 1,473 repeat calls from families with an existing concern and 230 calls from professionals seeking advice about their clients. To support primary sector service providers during the year, Queen Elizabeth Centre staff provided secondary consultancy (professional to professional), professional supervision, education seminars, workshops and preceptored placements (workplace coaching).

In addition to telephone consultations, service delivery modes include residential, day stay and home visiting. Each week, twelve families participate in the Monday to Friday residential program at Noble Park. The complexity of presenting problems in residential programs regularly requires specialised therapeutic interventions in addition to parenting skills enhancement.

Six families attend each Day Stay program. Single day programs are suitable for families with a single issue such as a settling or feeding difficulty requiring education and coaching. In 2002-2003, day stay services at Noble Park reduced from five to three days per week and the former local area home visiting program ceased. With DHS approval, funding that had provided the discontinued services was transferred to provide Parenting Plus three days a week in the Southern Metropolitan Region with a target of 48 families per annum. Similarly in the Upper Hume Region, former funds for a lower intensity home visiting program were redirected into providing Parenting Plus for six families a year in Wangaratta, Indigo and Alpine rural municipalities. Parenting Plus commenced in these two regions in October 2002.

Parenting plus

A pilot initiative in 2001-2002 funded by the Australian Government Department of Family and Community Services (F&CS), Parenting Plus has become one of the most promising of the Centre's core programs. In 2002-04, it is being largely funded by the Victorian State Government although F&CS is funding services for an additional 12 families as well as the evaluation of outcomes for 54 families. Parenting Plus is a practical program that fills a service gap between regular parenting support and the statutory services for families whose children are at high risk of abuse and/or neglect. It is a home-based intervention of 62 hours over nine weeks, offering intensive one-to-one parenting and personal skills development for high risk families not currently involved with Child Protection Services. Participating families have high needs due to factors such as mental illness, intellectual disability, substance abuse, or have had previous involvement with child protection services. The client group includes indigenous families and families from other culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds. Referrals have come from maternity hospitals, Maternal and Child Health Nurses' Enhanced Home Visiting programs and QEC's own triage service.

Short term service objectives are to:

- 1. increase parenting competence,
- 2. increase parenting confidence and
- 3. increase parents' enjoyment of parenting.

Medium and longer term objectives are to:

- 1. enhance child and family resilience,
- 2. attain children's developmental milestones, and
- 3. prevent Child Protection Services involvement.

Evaluation of the pilot by the Principal Investigator, Ms Kerry Haynes, Centre for Community Child Health, Royal Children's Hospital, found that six months after program completion most clients were able to describe how they were still using some of the skills they had learnt during the program. These skills included implementation of sleeping and eating routines, behaviour management strategies, improved communication skills with children and improved safety in the home. All of the parents who were interviewed reported that they felt more confident as parents following their participation in Parenting Plus. Compared to satisfaction at commencement, client satisfaction with parenting was significantly higher at program completion and also six months after program completion.

The Commonwealth Department of Family and Community Services, Child Abuse Prevention Program, is funding an extension of the evaluation in 2003-2004 from the initial 19 to 54 families. The Reference Group that was so helpful in the pilot program's implementation and evaluation phases will be invited to reconvene for the extension period.

Medical Services

The Director of Medical Services, Dr Gideon Saaroni, continued to meet the medical needs of clients at Noble Park in 2002-2003. Throughout the academic year, Dr Saaroni facilitated practical experience at Queen Elizabeth Centre for medical students from Southern Health during their fifth year paediatric rotation at Dandenong Hospital. Dr Meredith Rawson provided relieving medical services when Dr Saaroni was on leave and the Chandler Road Clinic continued to provide emergency after-hours services when needed.

The Advanced Paediatric Community Child Health training program delivered from the Noble Park site increased to two sessions a week in 2002-2003. The Paediatric Fellows saw infants and children with developmental or behavioural concerns. Some children were concurrently receiving residential or home-based services; others were referred as outpatients by health professionals from throughout the Southern Metropolitan Region. We are grateful to Dr Michele Hua (July-December 2002) and Dr Sally Munday (February-June 2003) who provided these sessions and to their auspice organizations, Monash Medical Centre and the Royal Children's Hospital.

Dr John King, MBBS, DPM, SRARZCP, Director, Mother-Baby Unit, Southern Health, and Dr Tom Levine MBCLB, MPM, Psychiatric Registrar, provided a weekly session at Queen Elizabeth Centre from February 2003 under contract between Queen Elizabeth Centre and Southern Health. This regular arrangement reflects the high number of Centre clients who have a mental illness. Twenty-six (26) clients attended these sessions from February to June 2003. Dr King also provided an education session for nursing staff. In turn, our staff provided education programs for staff of the Southern Health Mother-Baby Unit.

Parenting Assessment and Skills Development Services (PASDS)

Queen Elizabeth Centre remained the largest provider of PASDS in Victoria in 2002-2003, offering 10-12-day residential and 10- and 12-week home-based PASDS. Table 8 gives numbers of participating families in each by DHS region.

All children (0-3 year-olds) and their families who participated in PASDS were referred from Child Protection Services throughout Victoria. All were considered to be at high risk of abuse and/or neglect. Queen Elizabeth Centre staff assessed the adequacy of parenting competencies and provided parents with intensive teaching, modelling and coaching to enhance or develop parenting skills in weak areas

Queen Elizabeth Centre staff members use the Parenting Competencies Assessment Framework to assess the capacity of parents to adequately safeguard their infants and toddlers from preventable illness, preventable injury and preventable developmental delay. They provide formal reports to the referring Child Protection Service about parents' knowledge, skills and attitudes related to their children's day-to-day care and nurture. These reports contribute to Child Protection Services' assessment of risk. In some cases, our staff find that the parents have an adequate level of knowledge and skills related to child rearing, but discover that other factors are interfering with their capacity to adequately protect their children from harm. These other factors may include domestic violence, mental illness, intellectual disability or drug or alcohol dependence. Our reports help to clarify the areas in which interventions should focus in order to develop and strengthen these families.

The Centre's PASDS teams include maternal and child health nurses and early childhood workers or mothercraft nurses.

Regional Queen Elizabeth Centre Services

Regional teams of maternal and child health nurses and mothercraft nurses or early childhood workers provided home based PASDS throughout Gippsland (10 week programs), Upper Hume (12 week programs), Southern and Northern Metropolitan Regions (12 week programs).

From QEC-Hume's base in Wangaratta, our Upper Hume staff team also provided home-based Parenting Plus and a fortnightly day stay program funded through Hume Region as a mental illness prevention and early intervention program. Table 1 gives numbers of families in these programs.

The QEC-Northern team moved to new office premises in April 2003 within the Preston Creative Living Centre, a Uniting Care facility at 648 High Street, Reservoir. We acknowledge the valuable support provided by our former landlords, the City of Banyule, from March 2000 to April 2003, and look forward to a productive relationship with the multidisciplinary team of service providers at Reservoir.

SPECIFIC PURPOSE PROGRAMS

Queen Elizabeth Centre's Specific Purpose Programs are those Business Units that are funded from sources other than State government grants.

Parenting Plus

Both Commonwealth and State Governments provided funding for Parenting Plus in 2002-2003. The program is fully described under the Core Programs section of this Report. The Commonwealth-funded portion is reported financially as a Specific Purpose Program.

City of Casey

Queen Elizabeth Centre continued to provide home visiting services one day a week to City of Casey families as requested by and under the supervision of a City of Casey maternal and child health nurse. This collaboration resulted from the City of Casey's maternal and child health service New Initiatives and Enhanced Home Visiting programs. Queen Elizabeth Centre staff assisted 128 families in this program in 2002-2003.

City of Kingston

Queen Elizabeth Centre staff provide a weekly Day Stay program at the former Parkdale Maternal and Child Health Centre for Kingston residents referred by the municipality's maternal and child health nurses. In 2002-2003, 135 families attended the program for advice and assistance with infant and childcare concerns.

Education Services

Queen Elizabeth Centre Education Services continued to provide the Professional Education Seminar Series to a broad range of professionals working in early childhood and early parenting fields. Twenty-five seminars were conducted at the QEC conference centre through the year, with an attendance by 716 professionals.

Education Services staff provided specially commissioned professional education sessions in metropolitan and rural Victoria. Two hundred and twenty three (223) professionals including foster-carers, child protection workers and maternal child health nurses attended nine workshops. In addition to these workshops, staff provided clinical preceptorships in QEC PASDS, Residential and Day Stay services at Noble Park. Preceptorships ranged in length from three days to three weeks. Local Government Authorities also commissioned seven parent education sessions that attracted a total of 242 parents.

The demand for both professional and parent education sessions increased throughout the year. Whilst this is indicative of the high standard of teaching provided, it is unfortunate that QEC Education Services has not been able to expand its resource base sufficiently to meet all requests within desired timeframes.

The partnership between Queen Elizabeth Centre and Chisholm Institute of Technical and Further Education (TAFE) (Frankston Campus) continued in 2002-2003. The partnership jointly provided a module in the Advanced Diploma of Community Welfare (Children's Services) Certificate in Infant, Toddler Care and Family Support. Eighteen early childhood workers completed 10-day placements and two workshops provided at QEC.

A highlight of the year for Education Services was the hosting of visiting scholar Professor Jane Drummond from the University of Alberta (Canada) for 12 weeks in April, May and June. Sponsorship provided by The Forest Hill Early Childhood Foundation and The Ian Potter Foundation supported her visit. Professor Drummond delivered a number of workshops and offered expert mentorship with Best Practice in Home Visiting, Promoting Family Resilience and Working in Teams, not only to staff at QEC, but also to many other professionals throughout Victoria. As a result of Professor Drummond's visit, the University of Alberta and QEC now have established collaborative education and research links. QEC provided an eight-week international clinical placement for a fourth-year nursing student from the University of Alberta in February and March 2003. Furthermore, initial planning for the implementation and evaluation of the Family Assessment Model in all QEC services commenced.

Second National Conference

Queen Elizabeth Centre hosted its second national conference at the Copland Theatre, The University of Melbourne, on 8 and 9 November 2002. The conference entitled The Critical Early Childhood Years: Rethinking Current Interventions and Strategies attracted 480 delegates. Highly acclaimed international keynote speakers Dr Kathryn Barnard from the USA and Dr Gillian Pugh from the UK, presented cutting edge research and policy ideas. Invited Australian speakers included Professor Fiona Stanley, Associate Professor Campbell Paul, Professor Glenn Bowes and Professor Alan Hayes.

An additional 75 papers and workshops were presented by delegates from Australia, New Zealand, the UK and the USA. QEC staff presented three of these papers. The increasing number of delegates prepared to travel from overseas to attend the conference indicates the high standard and increasing reputation of the conference.

Research Program

The QEC funded research project, The Evaluation of the QEC Day Stay Program conducted by Jan Matthews of the Victorian Parenting Centre, continued. Preliminary findings of this project were presented at QEC's second national conference. Final results will be available in September 2003.

The partnership between QEC, the University of Newcastle (NSW), Royal Canberra Hospital (ACT) and the Centre for Community Child Health (VIC) in the multi-centre Random Controlled Trial of Home Visiting for Opiate Dependent Mothers continued. Phase 1, the feasibility study, was completed during the year and Phase 2, which involves the planning and implementation of the home visiting program, commenced.

Principal Investigator, Ms Kerry Haynes, Centre for Community Child Health, Royal Children's Hospital, completed an evaluation of the Parenting Plus Pilot Program in April 2003. The Australian Government Department of Family and Community Services (F&CS) funded the pilot study and its extension which will be undertaken in 2003-04. Findings are outlined in the Parenting Plus section of this report above.

QEC commissioned Monash University Department of Medical Psychology to study Parents' Perceptions of QEC's Home-Based Parenting Assessment and Skills Development Services (PASDS). Associate Professor Sandra Lancaster and Ms Heather Siddons completed their report in 2002. The study is not an evaluation of the PASDS, but sought to obtain feedback from parents who had been under some pressure to participate, all having been referred to the program by a Child Protection Service. We wanted information about what helped and what did not help and how participants thought provision of PASDS could be improved. The Minister for Community Services will launch the report in September 2003.

QEC piloted a dance therapy program for clients of the Southern Region home-Based PASDS in 2002 in partnership with Austin-Repatriation General Hospital Department of Psychology. Psychologist/dance therapist, Elizabeth Loughlin, and Michelle Royal, dance therapist, conducted the program at QEC together with QEC staff member, Louise Melenhorst. Their report was completed in March 2003.

Marketing

The reputation of the Centre continued to grow among professionals nationally and internationally in large part due to Queen Elizabeth Centre's Education Services that included the biennial national conference, the professional seminar series, the Visiting Scholar program, research publications and the QEC website, www.qec.org.au.

In 2002-2003, the web site received 93,134 visits. Most were from Australia (90%). Next were USA (4%) China (2%), Indonesia (1%), New Zealand, Uruguay and others (0.5% each). Most visited pages on the site were Professional Education Seminars Programs, Professional Education & Training, Employment, and QEC Conference Program.

Direct marketing to parents in the first weeks, months and years of parenting is undoubtedly effective but is a double-edged sword. Higher demand increases the waiting times for publicly funded services like those of Queen Elizabeth Centre. Advertisements appear regularly in widely distributed parenting newsletters and journals, and in pamphlets and flyers circulated in all maternal and child health centres, child care centres and maternity hospitals.

Client Services Outlook

Despite expert triaging and diversion of requests to the universal service system wherever possible, demand for our early parenting services remains strong. At 30 June 2003, the wait for residential services was one to twelve weeks (the lower figure dependent on ability to fill cancellations), for day stay services one to five weeks (depending on children's ages) and for home-based Parenting Plus the wait was six weeks. Despite this level of demand, the Centre at Noble Park continues to operate under capacity, limited by funding availability.

New funding in recent years has come, not from extension of our grant for core early parenting services, but in specialised funding from Child Protection Services for Noble Park and regional services for high-risk infants and their families. As reported last year, for future service growth and development we continue to look to the Department of Human Services' initiatives for secondary and tertiary services for high-risk families, to the family strengthening initiatives of the Commonwealth government, and to the feefor-service business products and services of our own Education and Research programs.

The new program, Parenting Plus, presents great possibilities as a way to assist families at high risk in the most practical way and at an early stage where preventative interventions have greatest chance of achieving success. We have high hopes of this program being a model that can be a prototype for preventative family services well into the future.

Partnerships

Queen Elizabeth Centre is involved in two Vulnerable Families Innovations Projects in the local government areas of Bairnsdale and Frankston. We are not lead agencies in these projects because of our focus on "early' rather than "whole of" childhood. They are family and community development projects aiming to reduce child abuse notifications and re-notifications. We have hopes of being more closely involved in direct service provision in LaTrobe and Darebin projects that will come on stream in 2003-2004.

Queen Elizabeth Centre is a partner in the Best Start project in the City of Casey. Funded by the Victorian Department of Community Services, the City of Casey is coordinating the project, a family strengthening, community development project targeting 0-7 year-olds and their families. It pools the knowledge and expertise of a wide range of service providers who have contact with the target population to focus on a number of interventions which will address recognised vulnerabilities.

We share accommodation with City of Kingston at Parkdale, Noah's Ark Services for Children with Developmental Delay at Wangaratta, Anglicare at Morwell and the Grace Berglund Centre at Warragul.

These and our contracted partnerships with the Cities of Casey and Kingston and the Shire of Cardinia herald a way for the future.

Pam Stilling

Chief Executive Officer, Director of Nursing

human resources

Despite improved pay and conditions, recruitment of maternal and child health nurses continued to be problematic in 2002-2003. Inability and reluctance to do shift work, weekend work and to work with the very high risk families are cited as reasons for choosing not to work for Queen Elizabeth Centre. Experienced nurses who are seeking more challenging roles are finding opportunities in the reasonably new Local Government Enhanced Home Visiting Programs. However, more maternal and child health nurses are availing themselves of educational opportunities provided by this Centre and students are undertaking field placements in our high intensity programs; PASDS and Parenting Plus. Hopefully, this exposure will increase the confidence and competence of maternal and child health nurses who may regard the Centre as a preferred employer. A reduction from the previous year in DHS grants required the termination of a dedicated Parent-Infant Play Program Coordinator and of facilitation by specialist providers of Dance Therapy and Fathers Groups. A significant strategy to manage the funding reduction will take effect in 2003-2004 and involves closing the residential PASDS program on alternate weekends.

Staff Establishment

At 30 June 2003 there were 61 female and 3 male staff members. Of the 64 staff members, there were 38 full time and 26 part-time in that week. Table 9 gives equivalent full-time staff numbers by program and staff category.

New appointments

Sue Couper joined the senior management team as Manager, Specialist Services, in February 2003, following Alison Nuske's resignation in December 2002. Sue was formerly a coordinator of the home-based PASDS program in Southern Metropolitan Region.

In February 2003 Clare McKenna took up a coordinator position in the residential PASDS program following Annemarie Dempster's resignation and acceptance of a coordinating position in the City of Casey. Debbie Brewis has been the acting second coordinator in the residential PASDS program from May 2003 when Lorraine Gillies accepted a coordinating position in the City of Frankston. As reported last year, the aim of having two coordinating positions was to reduce report-writing work for each and to increase capacity for each coordinator to work more closely with clients, and to teach, guide, supervise and support direct care staff. At 30 June 2003, we have nine PASDS coordinators based in four regions (5.95 FTE).

In February 2003, Kirsty Evans returned to the QEC workforce as a coordinator in the home-based PASDS program in Southern Metropolitan Region.

In response to the increasing complexity of families' needs, we appointed a social worker to the position of Clinical Family Counsellor in June 2003. She will take up her position at the Noble Park site in August 2003.

In July 2002, Pauline Sampson joined the Education and Research Program as Coordinator Education Services.

There were several temporary appointments to reception staff during the year following Michelle Alleaume's resignation in August 2002. A new appointment was made in July 2003.

Early Childhood Worker, Alison Johns, joined the Northern Metropolitan Region program in 2002-2003.

Merit and Equity Principles

The Queen Elizabeth Centre applies merit and equity principles in accordance with the Public Sector Management and Employment Act 1998. We reported on the application of the principles to the Office of Public Employment in Organisation Self Assessment 2003 and on Executive Remuneration to monthly workforce data to the Department of Human Services (DHS) in accordance with the DHS Minimum Dataset as well as monthly nursing workforce data to the Nursing Unit of the same Department.

All staff members are made aware of and are expected to comply with the Public Sector Code of Conduct. There were no known non-compliances in the year.

The information listed in the Directions of the Minister for Finance Part 9.1.3. (iv) is available on request.

Building Act 1993

The Queen Elizabeth Centre fully complies with the building and maintenance provisions of the Building Act 1993.

National Competition Policy

The Queen Elizabeth Centre complies with National Competition Policy guidelines when tendering.

The Centre has outsourced all non-core services.

donations & financial results

The Centre is very grateful for the continued support of donors during 2002-2003. Donations totalling $90,346 supported QEC's National Conference in November, and accommodation costs for Visiting Scholar, Professor Jane Drummond. They enabled us to purchase a vehicle for home visiting staff in East Gippsland and two mini digital movie cameras for rural QEC sites. These are powerfully effective tools staff use to teach and improve the quality of parent-child interactions.

It is with sadness that the Board and Managers learnt of the death of Mrs WMK Stephens in July 2003. Mrs Stephens was an honorary administrator of the Centre in the nineteensixties. She maintained a strong personal interest in the Centre throughout her life and has been a regular donor each year. Our sympathies are with her daughter, Ms Jacqueline Stephens.

The same Guidelines require total revenues and expenses to be presented as in Table 12. notes to and forming part of the financial statements for the year ended 30 june 2003

NOTE 1: Statement of Accounting Policies

The general purpose Financial Statements of the Centre have been prepared in accordance with the provisions of the Financial Management Act 1994. These requirements incorporate relevant accounting standards issued jointly by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Australia and CPA Australia and other mandatory professional reporting requirements (Urgent Issues Group Consensus Views). They have been prepared on the historical cost basis whereby assets are recorded at purchase price plus costs incidental to their acquisition and do not take into account changing money values nor the current cost of non-current assets (unless specifically stated).

(a) Rounding Off

All amounts shown in the Financial Statements are expressed to the nearest dollar.

(b) Change in Accounting Policies

Change in Employee Benefits policy

In the previous reporting periods up to 30 June 2002, provisions for employee benefits (annual leave) were measured using remuneration rates current at reporting date.

For the reporting period ending 30 June 2003, the Centre is required by AASB 1028 (Employee Benefits" to measure provisions for employee benefits at remuneration rates expected to apply when the obligation is settled, including the expected increase in remuneration rates.

The transitional arrangements of AASB 1028 on adoption at 1 July 2002, give rise to an adjustment to opening annual leave liabilities and a corresponding change to accumulated surplus/(loss).

The impact of this change is:

Decrease	Accumulated Surplus/(Loss)	$3,779
Increase	Annual Leave	$3,779

(c) Receivables

Trade debtors are carried at nominal amounts due and are due for settlement within 30 days. Collectability of debts is reviewed on an ongoing basis. A provision for doubtful debts is raised where doubt as to collection exists.

(d) Other Financial Assets

Other financial assets are valued at market value and are classified between current and non-current assets based on the Centre's Board of Management intention at balance date with respect to the timing of disposal of each investment. Interest revenue from investments is brought to account when it is earned.

(e) Revaluations of Non-Current Assets

Subsequent to the initial recognition as assets, non-current physical assets, other than plant and equipment, are measured at fair value. Plant and equipment are measured at cost. Revaluations are made with sufficient regularity to ensure that the carrying amount of each asset does not differ materially from its fair value at the reporting date. Revaluations are assessed annually and supplemented by independent assessments, at least every three years. Revaluations are conducted in accordance with the Victorian Government Policy Paper Revaluation of Non-Current Physical Assets.

Revaluation increments are credited directly to the asset revaluation reserve, except that, to the extent that an increment reverses a revaluation decrement in respect of that class of asset previously recognised at an expense in net result, the increment is recognised immediately as revenue in net result.

Revaluation decrements are recognised immediately as expenses in the net result, except that, to the extent that a credit balance exists in the asset revaluation reserve in respect of the same class of assets, they are debited directly to the asset revaluation reserve.

Revaluation increments and decrements are offset against one another within a class of non-current assets.

(f) Depreciation

Assets with a cost in excess of $1,000 are capitalised and depreciation has been provided on depreciable assets so as to allocate their cost - or valuation - over their estimated useful lives using the straight-line method. This depreciation charge is not funded by the Department of Human Services.

The following table indicates the expected useful lives of non current assets on which the depreciation charges are based:

	2002/03	2001/02
Buildings	Up to 50 years	Up to 50 years
Plant & Equipment	Up to 10 years	Up to 10 years
Furniture & Fittings	Up to 10 years	Up to 10 years

Depreciation rates are revised on an annual basis.

(g) Payables

These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided prior to the end of the financial year and which are unpaid. The normal credit terms are Nett 30 days.

(h) Goods and Services Tax

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of GST except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable, in which case it is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of an asset or part of an item of expense or revenue. GST receivable from and payable to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) is included in the statement of financial position. The GST component of a receipt or payment is recognised on a gross basis in the statement of cash flows in accordance with Accounting Standard AAS 28.

(i) Employee Benefits

Based on pay rates expected to apply when the obligation is settled. On-costs such as WorkCover and superannuation are included in the calculation of leave provisions.

Long Service Leave

The provision of long service leave is determined in accordance with AASB 1028. The liability for long service leave expected to be settled within 12 months of the reporting date is recognised in the provision for employee benefits as a current liability. The liability for long service leave expected to be settled more than 12 months notes to and forming part of the financial statements from the reporting date is recognised in the provision for employee benefits and measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date. Consideration is given to expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of services. Expected future payments are discounted using interest rates on national Government guaranteed securities with terms to maturity that match, as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows.

Wages And Salaries, Annual Leave And Accrued Days Off

Liabilities for wages and salaries, annual leave and accrued days off are recognised, and are measured as the amount unpaid at the reporting date in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date and are measured as the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Superannuation

The amount charged to the statement of financial performance in respect of superannuation represents the contributions made by the Centre to superannuation funds.

Employee Benefit On-Costs

Employee benefit on-costs are recognised and included in employee benefit liabilities and costs when the employee benefits to which they relate are recognised as liabilities.

(i) Intersegment Transactions

Transactions between segments within the Centre have been eliminated to reflect the extent of the Centre's operations as a group.

(k) Leased Property and Equipment

A distinction is made between finance leases which effectively transfer from the lessor to the lessee substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to ownership of leased non-current assets, and operating leases under which the lessor effectively retains all such risks and benefits. Where a non-current asset is acquired by means of a finance lease, the minimum lease payments are discounted at the interest rate implicit in the lease. The discounted amount is established as a non-current asset at the beginning of the lease term and is amortised on a straight-line basis over its expected useful life. A corresponding liability is established and each lease payment is allocated between the principal component and the interest expense. Operating lease payments are representative of the pattern of benefits derived from the leased assets and accordingly are charged against revenue in the periods in which they are incurred.

(I) Revenue Recognition

Revenue is recognised in accordance with AAS 15. Income is recognised as revenue to the extent they are earned, should there be unearned income at reporting date, it is reported as income in advance.

Government Grants

Grants are recognised as revenue when the Hospital gains control of the underlying assets. Where grants are reciprocal, revenue is recognised as performance occurs under the grant. Non-reciprocal grants are recognised as revenue when the grant is received or receivable. Conditional grants may be reciprocal or non-reciprocal depending on the terms of the grant.

Indirect Contributions

Insurance is recognised as revenue following advice from the Department of Human Services.

Donations

Donations are recognised as revenue when the cash is received.

Donations received for restricted purposes have been transferred to funds held for restricted purposes until expended.

(m) Fund Accounting

The Centre operates on a fund accounting basis and maintains three funds: Operating, Specific Purpose and Capital Funds. The Centre's Capital and Specific Purpose Funds include unspent capital donations and receipts from fund-raising activities conducted solely in respect of these funds.

(n) Services Supported By Health Services Agreement And Services Supported By Hospital And Community Initiatives

The Activities classified as Services Supported By Health Services Agreement (HSA) are substantially funded by the Department of Human Services while Services Supported By Hospital And Community Initiatives (Non HSA) are funded by the Centre's own activities or local initiatives.

(o) Comparative Information

Where necessary the previous year's figures have been reclassified to facilitate comparisons.

(p) Asset Revaluation reserve

The asset revaluation reserve is used to record increments and decrements on the revaluation of non current assets.

(q) Restricted Purpose Reserve

The Queen Elizabeth Centre's Restricted Purpose Reserve (Research and Development Reserve) was established in 1998/99 from proceeds from the sale of the Carlton Creche. The Reserve was specifically created for research in the field of early parenting.

(r) Contributed Capital

Consistent with UIG Abstract 38 "Contributions by Owners Made to Wholly-Owned Public Sector Entities" and Accounting and Financial Reporting Bulletin No. 39 "Accounting for Contributed Capital", transfers that are in the nature of contributions or distributions, have been designated as contributed capital.

Dated the sixteenth day of August 2003 at Noble Park

Auditor-General's Report

To the Members of the Parliament of Victoria, responsible Ministers and the Members of the Board of Management of The Queen Elizabeth Centre

Audit Scope

The accompanying financial report of The Queen Elizabeth Centre for the financial year ended 30 June 2003, comprising statement of financial performance, statement of financial position, statement of cash flows and notes to the financial statements, has been audited. The Members of the Board of Management are responsible for the preparation and presentation of the financial report and the information it contains. An independent audit of the financial report has been carried out in order to express an opinion on it to the Members of the Parliament of Victoria, responsible Ministers and Members of the Board of Management as required by the Audit Act 1994.

The audit has been conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards to provide reasonable assurance as to whether the financial report is free of material misstatement. The audit procedures included an examination, on a test basis, of evidence supporting the amounts and other disclosures in the financial report, and the evaluation of accounting policies and significant accounting estimates. These procedures have been undertaken to form an opinion as to whether, in all material respects, the financial report is presented fairly in accordance with Accounting Standards and other mandatory professional reporting requirements in Australia, and the financial reporting requirements of the Financial Management Act 1994, so as to present a view which is consistent with my understanding of The Queen Elizabeth Centre's financial position, and its financial performance and cash flows.

The audit opinion expressed in this report has been formed on the above basis.

Audit Opinion

The Queen Elizabeth Centre did not include the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of The Queen Elizabeth Centre Foundation in its financial report for the financial year ended 30 June 2003 nor for the financial year ended 30 June 2002. While the Foundation operates independently under the authority of a Trust Deed, the Foundation should have been consolidated within the Centre's financial report in accordance with Australian Accounting Standard AAS 24 Consolidated Financial Reports, as the Centre enjoys the majority of the benefits provided by the Foundation and is ultimately exposed to the majority of the risks of the Foundation. I am unable to quantify the effect of this departure on the Centre's financial report as I have not acted as auditor of the Foundation and its financial report was not available at the date of preparation of this report.

Qualified Audit Opinion

In my opinion, except for the matter referred above, the financial report presents fairly the financial position of The Queen Elizabeth Centre as at 30 June 2003 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended on that date in accordance with the requirements of the Financial Management Act 1994.
